

Local Food Connection Proud Partner Buckeye Valley Beef Cooperative

Buckeye Valley Beef Cooperative is made up of four farms: Bolender Family Beef, Nethero Family Farm, Parker Farm Red Angus, and Hamilton Beef Farm. These families met with the idea to keep the beef they were raising within their own local economy and knew it would be possible if they all worked together. All of the farmers come from families who made their living from farming and their practices have been passed down for generations. The co-op raises their cattle in a way that makes them proud to sit down and eat it at the dinner table.
